

We are growing. Are you?

Ogone is looking for a PROJECT MANAGER - SOFTWARE DEVELOPMENT PROJECTS m/f for our Brussels HQ

YOUR JOB

Your main responsibility is to lead software development projects, starting with a strategic project involving a migration to state-of-the-art technologies and expected to have a strong perception impact across our organization and our customer base. You ensure the project progresses as expected, and coordinate overall efforts of internal and external (international) teams involved, mainly based from our Brussels office.

After an internal training period about our products and services, you will be an IT Project Manager allowing you to:

- Define and manage the Master Project Plan and the Project planning with the stakeholders
- Manage project phases, dependencies, issues and risks
- Ensure all developments are delivered according to plan
- Act as the main contact point and the 'champion' for the project in the organization, including creating visibility around the project internally
- Work closely with the external/international teams
- Work closely with the core team and supportive team members appointed on the project, relying on them for technical and functional matters
- Work closely with all the team managers across all involved areas, to ensure their deliverables are progressing and any issues are dealt with, escalating if appropriate

- Organize and co-ordinate requirements gathering and validation, acceptance process, defect management and operational hand-over after migration
  - Co-ordinate release management of migrated modules towards the different environments, in line with release management processes for the existing platform lifecycle
  - Control the day-to-day aspects of the contractual relationship with the involved partner, including timesheets, quality and technical metrics, etc.
  - Report on a weekly and monthly basis the status/planning/budget of the migration project, report to the steering committee
